Our Community

ECLC works with people who live, work or study in eastern Melbourne. This includes the Inner East (Boroondara, Manningham and Whitehorse) and the Outer East (Knox, Maroondah and Yarra Ranges). Sometimes we see people from other regions.

Free Legal Advice

- Free and confidential advice sessions with a Community Lawyer
- Day and evening appointments available
- Outreach appointments across the East
- Intervention Order Support Service at Ringwood Magistrates' Court
- Appropriate referral to legal and community agencies as needed

Appointments at Outreach Locations

ECLC is committed to accessibility for clients. Appointments are available at various other locations throughout the eastern region. Ring your closest office for further information.

Common Types of Legal Problems

- Family Law
- Family Violence and Intervention Orders
- Victims of Crime
- Fines and Infringements
- Minor Criminal matters
- Car Accidents
- Problems with your Neighbour
- Tenancy
- Debt
- Consumer Issues

There are some areas of law ECLC cannot help with but can often refer people to appropriate services.

Ongoing Assistance

ECLC has guidelines as to when we can provide further help. Casework may be offered to people who are disadvantaged. This depends on many factors but generally we may be able to assist people who:

- Are Centrelink recipients or low income earners
- Have difficulty in understanding or coping with the legal process
- Have compelling circumstances such as mental health or difficult financial issues
- Have a legal matter that has a public interest component and likely to succeed

Community Legal Education

ECLC provides information sessions that inform people about their rights in various areas of law. ECLC offers:

- Group talks
- Workshops
- Forums / Seminars

Free Publications

Information is available on many areas of law to inform the community of their rights regarding legal issues. More information available on our website www.eclc.org.au
